SALMON TROUT RUN IN.

The usual fall run of salmon trout has made its appearance in the river, and good sport is furnished when the sands opposite the city. The fish are from 12 to 14 inches in length and are caught with hook and line. A small boy was out yesterday for two hours and brought back seven fine fish. The top end run is expected shortly when the docks will be lined with fishermen.

Big Increase in Lumber Output

Clatsop County Mills Will Soon Be Turning Out More Than
550,000 Feet Daily

When the big Hume mill is operating to its full capacity, and when the Warrenton mill, now under way, is completed, the total output of Clatsop county lumbering manufacturing will be 550,000 feet daily, 14,500,000 feet monthly, or 174,720,000 feet annually. This output of lumber is the basis of a business approximating $2,500,000. So far, but surely lumbering is overtaking fishing, and in another year, unless all signs fail, Clatsop's present leading industry will give way to that which now holds second place.

The Hume mill is now in steady operation. As yet, however, lumber is being cut only for the needs of the company, and it will perhaps be 30 days before the output will be as great as that prepared for. When all the buildings are completed and the mill is worked to its full 10-hour capacity, it will turn out 150,000 feet in case of necessity 175,000 feet. The Hume mill is of greater capacity than any other concern of its kind on the Pacific coast.

The Hume mill will cut solely for the export trade. The Messrs. Hume find ready market for all the lumber they can manufacture and will ship their product on their own vessels—a fleet of carriers that will constitute a valuable addition to Astoria's shipping. Practically the entire output will be sold in California for a time, but the big local plant will, ere long, be sending part of its product to the nations of the orient.

There is absolutely nothing lacking in the Hume mill. Every machine of modern design essential to a strictly up-to-date concern has been installed and

A long line of fishermen stood in front of the office of the Alaska Fishermen's Packing company yesterday and took turns in gaining place at the counter where they were given the checks for their wages for the spring and summer months.

It was general pay day for the crew of the Berlin that returned from Bristol Bay a few days ago laden with a cargo of fish.

The Berlin left out over the bar the 19th of April for Alaskan waters with a crew of about 100 white men and 125 Chinese. They were sent out as fishermen in the employ of the Alaska Fishermen's Packing Company and yesterday

Fall Season Opens Today

Two Canneries and Three Cold
Storages Will be Operated
On the Lower River.

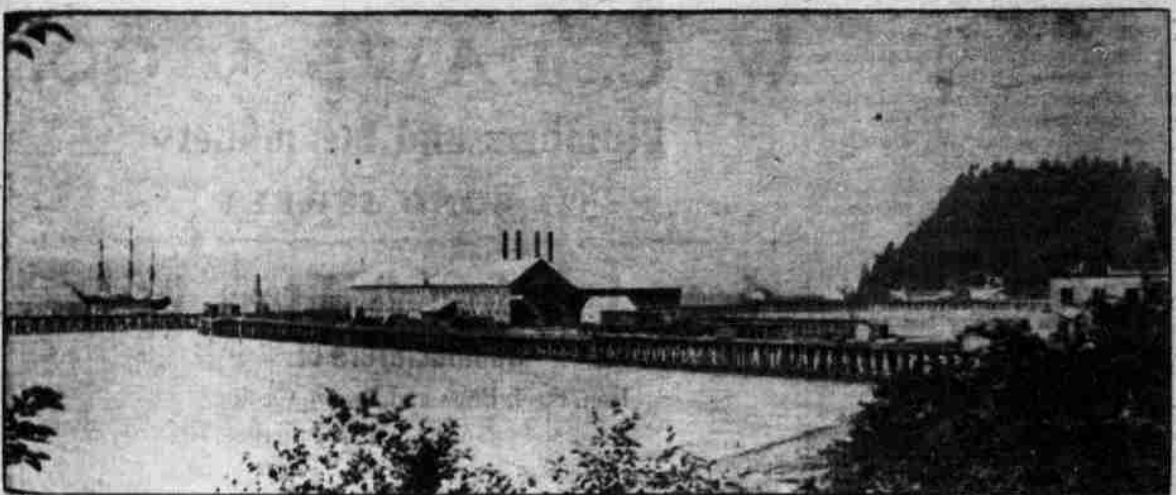

The Columbia fall fishing season commences at 6 o'clock this morning. Only two of the lower river canneries will be operated—the McGowan cannery at Ilwaco and J. G. Megler's Brookfield cannery. Three cold-storage plants will be operated, those of S. Schmidt, J. Lindenberg and the Warrenton Packing Company. The packers and cold-storage men will pay 3 cents for steelheads and 2 cents for silver-sides and fall chinooks. These low prices will not be an inducement to fishermen, and it is likely that little fishing will be done. Many of the traps will be operated during the season, however, and it is expected that the packers will depend on these for their supplies.

John D. McGowan, who was over yesterday from the north shore, stated to a reporter that there were few fish in the river at the present time. Some of the gillnetters have made a haul or two, and from their experience it is believed that the supply of silver-sides will be short during the early weeks of the season. Practically all the fish caught are early chinooks.

The McGowans have about a dozen gillnetters in their employ, and it is thought few of the individual fishermen will work for the price that will prevail during the opening weeks of the season. It is thought probable that the price of steelheads will go up, as the cold-storages will probably make an active bid for this class of fish for eastern shipment.

THE NEW HUME SAWMILL, THE FINEST PLANT OF ITS KIND IN THE WORLD.

Actual Operations Were Commenced Yesterday on a Limited Scale.

throughout the plant has been conveniently arranged. It has well been called the finest sawmill in the world, a statement that is corroborated by every outside mill man who has visited it. As will be seen from the accompanying illustration, it is conveniently located, with the advantage of rail and water connections, and the site is large enough to meet any demands that may arise. It is easily Astoria's leading manufacturing plant and will dispense a vast sum yearly in the city.

In the statement of the daily lumber output here given 60,000 feet is credited to the new mill being erected at Warrenton. This mill will take the place of the mill of Warren & Lester, now in operation. The present mill is cutting 30,000 feet of lumber daily and the new plant will be twice its size. The following statement shows the daily output of the mills now in operation and that building at the West Side town:

Tongue Point Lumber Co.	150,000
Clatsop Mill Co.	100,000
Astoria Box Co.	90,000
Seaside Lumber Co.	65,000
Warrenton Lumber Co.	70,000
Westport Mill Co.	60,000
Universal Co.	35,000

Total 660,000
It is difficult to place an accurate value upon this daily product. Much of the lumber is sold in the eastern markets, where it brings a fancy price. Even the poorest grades, such as is used for street building purposes, sells for $12 per thousand feet. The output of box lumber is large and will be much greater in another year.

It is safe to say, however, that Clatsop county will, within a short time, be producing $8,000 worth of lumber daily, $48,000 worth weekly, $191,000 worth monthly and about $2,300,000 worth annually. This means fully $100 for every man, woman and child living in Clatsop county.

When cognizance is taken of the immense timber supply tributary to Astoria, the full significance of the lumbering industry becomes apparent. This supply has been estimated to be 150,000,000,000 feet—the greatest in the world. The timber in the vast forests is worth more than one and one quarter billions of dollars. When this industry is fully developed Astoria will be the world's principal lumber manufacturing point.

ROCK TRAIN GOES OVERBOARD.

Fourteen rock cars were precipitated into the ocean at the government jetty at the mouth of the river late Tuesday afternoon. The train was returning from the end of the jetty when the accident occurred. A rock had wedged on the track and Engineer Huntington was compelled to apply the air brakes in order to prevent the engine running into the obstruction. The shock following application of the brakes was so severe that the drawhead was torn loose from the first car, saving the engine. The 14 cars behind rolled off into the water, carrying brakeman Ewing and a track walker. Both men escaped without injury. Miss Stella Olsen and Miss Fay Hill, of Warrenton, were on the engine at the time of the accident. The rock cars were empty.

HOSIERY DIFFERENCE

Every dry goods store sells Hosiery; to some store-keepers all Hosiery looks alike and that accounts for the mass of poor Hosiery sold in the market; poor yarns, poor finish, poor shape and always of poor value to the wearer. Here is why ours is "different." We work out the hosiery question to a finish by going to the fountain head, searching out the maker with the best facilities and highest skill and have him make them to our special order; that's why our Hosiery at any given price has so much more intrinsic value than the usual kinds. They have proven their merit during years of wear on Astoria people's feet and this season's importations now arriving keep up their already firmly established reputation. See our 50c line of all-over lace lises, lace boot lises and silk embroidered styles; nowhere else can such qualities be found under 75c a pair. You will not realize the difference unless you wear them—that is the test.
